

Lemurian Diamonds

These are very rare 100% silica gemstones, that have been called California Diamonds for over 100 years. The Tiffany Company use to make these available over 80 years ago. They are not like diamonds from Africa and other parts of the world, that carry a heavy karmic vibration, but are 1,000's of times more rare and have absolutely no negative karma. They are from the 7th Sector of ancient Lemuria, just south of Mt. Shasta, California and have the cleanest energy I have found in any gemstone. They were harvested with zero impact on the environment and are truly life-changing gemstones.

- * Hardness - they range from 7.5 - 9.00 in hardness (like emerald, ruby and sapphire)
- * Age - The last volcanic eruptions in this area where the diamonds come from were over 11,000 years ago, and the first eruptions happened over 350,000 years ago, and the surrounding area dates to 2.5 million years ago, so these gems are very ancient indeed
- * Cost - They are only $7-$15 a carat (depending on clarity and size)
- * I have raw and tumbled ones available
- * Easy to have wrapped in silver or gold wire (pendant); set (earrings) or mounted (ring)
- * Shipping is only $7.50 per order in the U.S. (that covers insurance, packaging and postage). Shipping mainly to those in the US, with a few exceptions, for all other countries the postage will be more.
- * Payment through Paypal at www.saintgermainvioletflame.com - And I will send them out within 3 days

They come with a long write-up that I researched about the scientific, Native American, and spiritual benefits that I received intuitively.

A short description of the spiritual benefits: As we take on more light into our bodies, through the inner disciplines of our spiritual practices like meditation and affirmations, our bodies and particularly our bones are actually transforming from carbon into silica. It is truly amazing that we are actually turning into silica beings and to have a gemstone in the physical form that we can wear, and that represents our transformation, is indeed a miracle. And by wearing them as earrings, pendants and rings we can help to speed up the process of becoming true light beings!

With geological facts, Native-American legends and ancient myths. Coming from a rather young caldera, the diamonds are found in what has been termed, rhyolitic rocks, andesite and basalt. As the rocks slowly erode, the diamonds are exposed. The plains in this area made up of pyroclastic flow and other volcanic rock. As time has progressed, this land called the Red Hills (volcanic) has become quite the wine-making region, and the majority of all the "diamond-country" is now in private hands. So these gems have become much more precious and sought after, since they are becoming more and more scarce. They only come from one place in the world, and there are no diamond mines in that area.

Once used for industrial and commercial purposes. The Tiffany Company used these diamonds in the late 1920's and 1930's. These semi-precious gems have no crystalline structure, and no crystal faces, they are made of silica- dioxide. The melting point of these diamonds is about 1727 degrees Celsius. The andesite and other rocks that the diamonds are found in erode over time from rain and the elements, leaving the diamonds exposed, and are collected harmlessly. The Lemurian Diamonds come in a few different colors, but the most prized are the Violet and Lavender. They come in many different natural shapes, and cutting is always available.

Native American:

Revered by the local and regional Native American tribes, especially by the Pomo Indians, which have used these semi-precious gems, in many different ways, for thousands of years, possibly as long as 11,500 years. The Pomo Indians ancestors contact with these ancient gems could be as much as 40,000 years or longer, no one really knows. So lets truly try to appreciate the antiquity of Mother Earth and these amazing liquid-diamond treasures.

One of the most heard oral traditions come from the Pomo Indians:

The diamonds originated when the Indian Chief Kah-Bel ascended the volcano to visit the grave of his Princess Lupiyoma. As Kah-Bel cried at the grave his tears crystallized and rolled down the mountain to the plains below. The Native American and all the world's indigenous peoples prophecies speak of a global change, of peace, and that is what the new-age movement calls the Aquarian Age, and what the Veda's call the Satya Yuga, the (Awakened Age).

Mythological:

It is said that these Diamonds have been in contact with man since the time of Lemuria (Land of the Mother Ray) or MU (for over 2 million years, the original civilization on Earth), and more recently, in Atlantis (from 11,500 - 70,000 years ago) and now being found in the present times. Since these diamonds are surfacing now, at the time of the cusp of the Seventh Golden Age of Aquarius, it is fitting that we can also call them Aquarian Diamonds. They have been found in what was the seventh sector of MU. This land of northern California (San Francisco to Mount Shasta) is the birthplace of the Seventh Seed, the Seventh Root Race, the founders of the Freedom Race, the Aquarian Race. So these diamonds carry all those attributes and purpose.

The Aquarian Age officially begins in 2022 (approximately) and is a constant celebration of Music and Art for 10,000 years, and the roots of that seed have sprouted from the Seventh Sector of what once was the original civilization on Earth, called Lemuria (which the seventh sector or crown chakra is in northern California). These semi-precious gems have surfaced right in the heart of the seventh region of this mythological land of immortality. At the beginnings of Mu was the fifth dimension, on the surface of the planet, where all lived as one, in a heaven-like world, and that is what we are returning to in 2022 (approximately). And with these sacred "Diamond-Reminders" from the world's most ancient and elevated civilization in the history of Earth, we have our amulet! So as the beginnings on planet Earth (Lemuria Age) seeded in present day northern California, and the graduation of planet Earth (Aquarian Age) seeded in present day northern California, has come "full-circle". The home of the Lemurian, or Aquarian Diamonds.

Metaphysical:

As our vibration or light is at a rapid rate of acceleration in these times of change, we notice that our cellular structure and even our bones are slowly turning from the older and more dense carbon-based configuration into less dense silica-based classification. So as some diamonds are at the hardness of a 10.0 on Mohs hardness scale, they are still the denser carbon. The Lemurian Diamonds are silica-based, therefore holding a less-dense makeup, with a greater symmetry, and having lighter and more etheric values, qualities and traits that you can feel and benefit from. The raw diamonds have a most exquisite feel and physically have an amazing look. They are naturally beveled, some inclusioned, laser-like, round, flat, clear or colorful. And others have been cut or tumbled.

And truly, these diamonds have absolutely know negative karmic-ties, which is a huge challenge in the world of diamonds. These Lemurian Diamonds are completely karmic-free and that in itself is extremely ultra-rare. It is almost impossible to find a diamond in this world that does not have some discordant energy associated with it. There is almost always some impact either with the environment, the people or both, and no matter how many times one “cleanses” that “karmic” diamond, there will always be opportunity for residual energies to linger. So rest assured that these gems carry only pure light and love.

These very rare diamonds vibrate at the level of the 12th Cosmic Ray of the Liquid Diamond. These diamonds bring that 12th Cosmic Ray frequency, along with:
The Diamond Heart - to help master the facets (expressions) of the “diamond” of love
The Diamond Mind - to have clear thoughts and wisdom, and clean words
The Diamond World - to carry that diamond frequency with you where ever you go in the world
There are 12 main dimensions with 12 sub-dimensions in each, making 144 different speeds that light vibrates at. When light is slowed down (where the protons spin slowly) enough, it condenses into matter (3rd dimension). So 12 octaves or wavelengths within each of the 12 dimensions. These diamonds harmonize the 12th, highest dimension (closest to the Source) in the Paradise Creations of The Central Universe. Called, The Source, The Great Central Sun, The Eternal Isle of Paradise, The Sun Behind the Sun, The Great Hub, The Only Stationary Place, The Largest Sphere Known, Where We All Come From. I also call these diamonds, “Source Diamonds” or The Source Stone, as again they vibrate with the highest dimension, the 12th , the closest to The Great Central Sun.

Saint Germain Personal Blessing:

They have been blessed by myself, Saint Germain, christened at the most sacred natural-spring on the volcano of Mount Shasta, in northern California. Amongst those springs lower on the mountain, it takes up to 500 years before the water reaches the sunlight, at the head of the spring. As the water travels through the volcanic aquifer, it is also being charged electronically by all the natural gold deposits that it passes through, and there is a huge natural lake inside that acts like a giant natural gold pan, and the bottom of the entire lake is layered thick in gold. This one-of-a-kind water is also charged by the three-cones of the volcano itself, stimulating and accelerating the protons in this water to an escalation of highly-charged electro- magnetic etheric-fire. This holy water of Mount Shasta also has the electronic-presence of The All-Consuming Seventh Cosmic Ray of the Violet Flame, because this Cosmic Ray has been physically anchored within the mountain since 1930. This water also has the electronic presence of myself, Saint Germain and the Ascended Masters and Angels: Saint Germain, RA MU (The bringer of light) who is the King of Telos, Archangel Gabriel and Mother Hope, Archangel Melchizedek, and the Legions of the Keepers of the Violet Flame. With all these attributes of the water, these diamonds are super-charged in a way unlike any other gem in the world. To top it off these sacred gems come from the land of the seventh region of MU (Lemuria), a civilization that preceded Atlantis and had attained a level of purity seldom attained in the lower worlds (of matter) in over 7 trillion inhabitable blue planets like ours. And that same land is the birthplace of the Aquarian Age as well, giving these one-of-a-kind diamonds a frequency and purity unlike any other gem, rock or stone I have ever held.

These Lemurian Diamonds can be used uncut for a natural look (which I think is the highest, as there is no man's energy on them, like when they are cut and faceted). I like to use them as an altar piece and where them in my shoes and cut into clothing fabric and sewn inside (to wear them over my heart when in lecture, concert and everyday life). They can also be cut and faceted, giving them a fire and sparkle which makes them almost indistinguishable from the common diamond, but again I love the raw, God-Made or Mother Nature-Made natural beauty and majesty. These rare, luminescent and lustrous diamonds only come from one area on the planet, that is now almost completely in private hands, becoming very hard to find, so own a piece of Earth's true history that few people bestow, a Lemurian Diamond!

Mounted earrings and wire-wrap pendants available by special order. (extra charges apply)
